FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Chicago Meat Authority is Proud to Introduce Chris Marriott as Vice President of Business Development

Chicago, IL December 10, 2007 – Chicago, IL. Chicago Meat Authority (CMA) is proud to introduce Chris Marriott as Vice President of Business Development. Chris brings over 30 years of building long term business relationships to Chicago Meat Authority, helping to strengthen CMA's position as Your Authority on Quality Meats.

Chris' past experience includes developing, training, and leading many successful Sales and Marketing teams for large manufacturing organizations such as Kraft and ConAgra. In these roles, he maintained responsibility for multifunctional strategic process implementation including customer supply chain strategic planning and business development planning. Chris brings tenure and experience in building and developing many strategic selling and marketing teams through a culture designed to engage the organization in meaningful business building activity.

"I'm delighted with Chris' energy, enthusiasm and insider knowledge of the food industry landscape," states Chicago Meat Authority President and Owner Jordan Dorfman, "I'm sure he'll be a huge addition to our team."

Chris joins the CMA Management team that includes Jordan Dorfman, President and Owner; Ray Kozlowski, Vice President – Business Development; Peter Bozzo – Vice President – Portion Control; Dan Wang – Chief Financial Officer; John Nault – Director of Operations.
